"TRUTH is MIGHTY, and WILL PREVAIL."

Sworn Statement

—OF A—

BOSTON POLICE OFFICER

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—From exposure I took sick about nine years ago with Rheumatic Fever, from which I suffered about four months. When I recovered from the fever I found myself suffering with pain in my side and constipation, which brought on the piles. I consulted a physician, and paid him over $200 for attending me, and all the while I was gradually growing worse. Then one physician after another was employed, until seven of the best physicians of Boston had taken my case in hand.

On consultation between several of the leading physicians, they concluded my complaint was asthma and general debility. I had great difficulty in breathing, and an inhaler was required to afford me breath. Through the treatment of one physician I took from 75 to 100 boxes of calomel pills, and faithfully tried all the medicine that each physician described. From my long sickness, and the vast amount of medicine used to overcome the great pain, my kidneys became badly affected, and I suffered excruciating pain in the small of my back, with great difficulty in passing my urine.

One physician said I was deceased all through my system, and he regretted that he could give me no hope for health. My suffering from indigestion was so great that it was impossible to keep any solid food on my stomach, and the whole nature of my food was broth from oatmeal.

I also took a prescription from a celebrated English physician, who said my trouble was Bronchitis and Dyspepsia. I took 18 bottles of medicine especially prepared for Dyspepsia, and I have used a great deal of medicine from apothecaries' prescription. I have taken Sarsaparilla until you could count the bottles by the dozen, and indeed I have given nearly all the popular advertised medicine a fair trial. I had a dreadful cough, and did not average over 2 hours' sleep a night for 8 years.

A brother policeman urged me to try Vegetine, but for a long time I refused, having got completely discouraged from taking so much medicine without any benefit; however, after urgent persuasion I concluded to try it, and before I had used one bottle I could eat and hold on my stomach a beefsteak, a thing I had not been able to do before for years; indeed, I obtained more substantial benefit from the first bottle of Vegetine than from all other medicines which I had taken. I kept on improving, and kept on using the Vegetine, until I was perfectly cured and able to do duty all day, eat and digest my food, sleep well at night, and I am 40 pounds heavier than I ever was before in my life, and am, as I think, a living contradiction of the prophecies of the most learned medical talent of New England, for with all of their combined wisdom they could not accomplish so much as that simple vegetable medicine called Vegetine, to which I am indebted for health, life, and happiness.

SUFFOLK ss., BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 22d, 1875.
Then personally appeared the above named Eugene F. Sullivan, and made oath that the foregoing statement is true, before me, HOSEA B. BOWEN, Justice of the Peace.

FURTHER PROOF.

FACTS WILL TELL

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—Allow me to say a word in favor of VEGETINE. During the past year I have suffered from a complication of diseases. I laid in bed from the 3d of November until the middle of the following June, and on an average did not sit up two hours a week; I had eight of the best physicians in the state, but got no help, and constantly grew worse. They agreed that I had heart disease, phthisis, pyaemia and kidney complaint, and could never be any better. I was reduced in weight 50 pounds, which is much for I am naturally 15th.

In June, finding I was failing under the treatment of the physicians, I commenced the use of VEGETINE, through the earnest persuasion of friends, and I am happy to state, with good results. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and can sit up all day, walk half a mile and ride six.

I am greatly encouraged, and shall continue using the VEGETINE if I can get it. I am a poor man, but for the truth of this statement I refer to any man in Goffstown or vicinity. Yours, very thankfully,

A. J. BURBECK,
August 1, 1875. Goffstown, N. H.

BOILER EXPLOSION IN LARAMIE CITY.

Five Men Killed and Ten Wounded—Providential Escape of a large Number of Workmen.

LARAMIE CITY, March 23.

A boiler in the Union Pacific Company's rolling mill at this place, exploded today, wrecking the south half of the mill. Five men were killed and ten others wounded seriously, two of whom will die.

The explosion occurred after the night hands had gone home, and before the morning hands came in, so that less than twenty men were in the mill at the time. Nearly every one of these were either killed or wounded. The boiler was carried through the stone wall of the mill, and landed a quarter of a mile on the prairie. All the killed had families here. The wounded were taken to the hospital. Damage to the mill $15,000.

A PROTEST FROM THE VATICAN.

MADRID, March 23.

A protest is received from the Vatican against the article of the Spanish constitution sanctioning religious toleration. The protest declares the article violates the right of Catholicism and annuls the concordat.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The English Mission.

WASHINGTON, March 23.

The prospects of the confirmation of Mr. Dana appear to be materially improved by the efforts of his friends, and it is claimed that he is now sure of a majority of the votes. Messrs. C. H. Hill and W. G. Russell are here in Mr. Dana's interest, though on their own responsibility.

Marsh and the Judiciary Committee.

Marsh appeared before the judiciary committee this morning in secret session. He was asked whether he had anything further to say which would shed further light upon his transactions with Secretary Belknap. He replied that he had not; that he believed he had made a full and candid confession of all the facts and had concealed nothing. He was then asked why he fled. He replied that what he saw in the papers of the day succeeding that on which he had given his testimony induced him to flee for safety. This completes Marsh's examination, and the question whether additional testimony shall be taken on other charges against Belknap before proceeding with the impeachment will be discussed tomorrow by the full judiciary committee.

Baseless Accusations.

The exhaustive investigation by the House committee on Indian affairs into the charges against E. P. Smith, the predecessor of the present commissioner of Indian affairs, has proved these accusations to be baseless, and in some cases evidently malicious, and after a detention of fifty days Mr. Smith is permitted to go his way. The testimony of the last witness against him, J. H. Smoot, may be taken as a fair example of the whole. Smoot's story was, that he was paid $300 by one Wilder to leave town and avoid testifying before the committee as to what he knew about a contract between Smith and Wilder. His testimony to this effect was printed this morning in a Baltimore paper, but not a word was said of the fact that, on cross-examination by Professor Seelye, Smoot broke down completely, admitting that he only supposed he was expected to leave town; that he never received any request or hint to leave; that he did not know that they were afraid he would testify, and, finally, that he did not know anything about the alleged fraudulent contract.

The Greenback Question.

There is talk among the prominent members of the House, including Democrats, Republicans and Independents, of initiating a movement for the union of hard-money men of both sides upon some measure making greenbacks fundable in a long bond at a low rate of interest. Quite a number of the most influential hard-money men on both sides of the House have expressed approval of the idea, and it is believed that such a bill as that suggested would receive the support of sixty Democrats and eighty Republicans—a number amply sufficient to insure success.

STATE MISCELLANY.

Mrs. Caroline Tiffany, of Bristol, who has been this Winter at Florida, for her health, was recently fatally injured by a fall.

The body of an unknown woman about forty years old was taken from a dock at Providence on Tuesday and it bore some marks of violence.

A. J. Barnaby, a clothing-dealer of Providence, has caused the arrest of three young men in his employ, Albert W. Farnum, a clerk, George J. Heck, cutter, and an assistant named Adolph H. Rothemick, on the charge of embezzlement to the amount of $2000.

Another Gretna Green affair came off last Sunday, Tiverton being the place sought to get the knot tied. The mother of the child-bride is said to have fainted on being apprised of the fact that her daughter had indeed become a man's wife, and that she had "done gone" and got married without the knowledge or consent of either father or mother.

LITTLE COMPTON.

There was a very heavy rainfall Wednesday, accompanied by a violent wind. The roads were badly washed and gullied and leaks were found in many houses that have heretofore been considered tight. Whether partly from some peculiar state of the atmosphere, or wholly from the severity of the storm, the roar of the ocean was most unusual and deafening. Many an old resident on this storm-beaten coast remarked it with wonder.

Several flocks of wild geese passed over the Point Wednesday, and robins, too, have been seen in this neighborhood within a day or two. The latter, especially, are always hailed with delight by the rural resident.

[Reported for the Providence Journal.]

The Republican state convention was held in representatives hall yesterday forenoon commencing at 11 o'clock, and was called to order by Gen. William R. PERIODICALS.

THE GALAXY.

The April number of the Galaxy is a more than usually interesting one. The initial article is by Prof. Burt G. Wilder in which he has grouped a considerable number of the exceptions that defy the zoologist in his efforts at classification and nomenclature. General Custer contributes a very bright and graphic article entitled "From West Point to [the Battle Field." He gives a varied picture of the state political feeling at the military academy in the Winter of 1860-61.

John G. Saxe is the author of a very pretty sonnet entitled "Love Confirmed by Reason." An article on "Provençal Song" is credited in several places to Thomas Wentworth Higginson, but the New York Tribune and the Boston Transcript say this is a mistake and that Mrs. McKaye of Cambridge is the author. The very first line of the article contains an internal evidence of Col. Higginson's authorship, but the Tribune may be right. At any rate, the article is a very readable one, and some of the specimen songs are exceedingly pretty.

"Fate's Choice" recounts the experiences in the war of a company of 103 men only one of whom escaped whole. Col. Nicholas Smith, who married Ida Greeley, sets forth in a humorous vein the "Inconvenience of Being Named Smith." An anonymous author gives a valuable discription of the "Homes of the American Aborigines," with illustrations of ruins discovered by the Wheeler exploring expedition. Richard Grant White shows why he puts little confidence in the "American Pronunciation of English." This is really one of the most temperate and useful of his articles.

Several more chapters of Madcap Violet are given and Miss Howells finishes Reuben Dale in a manner not altogether satisfactory or the reverse. "Mr. Beaman's Mistake" is described on the title page as "an old fashioned story." It is by Emma B. Cobb. J. H. Siddons gives more of his "Souvenirs of a Man of Letters," interesting gossip about literary men of a past generation, and John Burroughs writes some more about Emerson. Henry James, Jr., gives a short article on "The King of Poland and Mme. Geoffrin," and Lawrence Barrett writes about the "Bonanza Mines of Nevada." The Nebulous Person discusses Belknap and finds him innocent of bribery.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

The first article in the April number is an interesting and profusely illustrated article on Yale College. Martin J. Howell presents the arguments in favor of the belief in the existence of a subteranean outlet of the great lakes. Philip Nolan's Friends, by E. E. Hale, is continued. Gen. Dix is reported to have made one of the best English translations of the famous and grand Dies Ira. This number contains a revision of his translation, with the original, and some notes.

One of the most valuable articles in the number is a fine critical paper on "Irving, Poe and Hawthorne," by George Parsons Lathrop. Quite a sketch of Hawthorne's life is given. Of the first two he says, "Let us call Poe a positive genius. He would have flourished anywhere in much the same way that he did in America. Irving, then, is comparative: given the condition of a certain gentlemanly leisure he might have done something pleasant in letters elsewhere, but it would probably have been much less noticeable than what he has left us." Of the last he says, "We find Hawthorne taking the highest rank by virtue of his relation to the country, the largeness of his powerful, individual development, his insight, and his dramatic feeling."

Clarence Cook writes some more about artistic furniture, treating of mantel pieces, shelves and cupboards. His articles are rich in valuable suggestions, and are calculated to improve the taste in household affairs, even though the pieces of furniture he admires and illustrates may be beyond the reach of many. Persons of very small means will find these papers full of hints that they can afford to take. Gabriel Conroy is continued. The installment is an excellent one. The plot is getting more and more complicated, and there is little light yet as to the end. The interest is, however, fully maintained.

The other articles are about Jules Janin, Perroy's Cross, Revolutionary Letters, the end of the Mysterious Island, Spring, Cuba without War, The Astor Family in New York. There are poems by Anna C. Brackett, John G. Saxe, John Boyle O'Reilly and others. The "Topics of the Time," on Revivals and Evangelists, Keeping At It, and The Reconstruction of National Morality, are particularly good. The Old Cabinet contains some excellent remarks about George Washington, Bible Reading and other subjects. The Bric-a-Brac contains the history of the horse car poetry, and music for it. The public can now punch with care in the presence of the piano playsir.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

The Atlantic for April contains the next to the last installment of Private Theatricals, and it is so good that it is disagreeable to think the story so near its end. Mrs. Gilbert, who has been interesting all along, appears at her best. Mrs. Farrell develops more fully, and Mr. Gilbert meets the enemy and he is hers,—temporarily. Susan persuades him to flee, and he and Mrs. Farrell part in a highly dramatic style.

Col. Waring has already done much good service in teaching people about draining. In the number he describes "Liernur's Pneumatic System of Sewerage." Of the merits of the system a non-professional person can hardly express an opinion, and Col. Waring does not very positively commit himself to it, but he declares it well worthy of experiment. House holders and house builders can not study the subject of drainage too carefully. Wilson Flagg writes at some length on a subject allied to this,—Rural Architecture, a thing in which there is room for improvement. The house and its furnishing does so much to form the occupant that people ought to cultivate their tastes in architectural matters.

Part II of A Carnival of Rome is given and J. R. Hosmer describes a visit to Lützen. Mrs. Kemble continues her "Old Woman's Gossip," and Revolutionary interests are represented by H. E. Scudder's article on The Siege of Boston. This number is rich in poetry. George P. Lathrop also contributes to the April number of Scribner's, and writes in this number of the Atlantic about several of our early novelists, also contributes a poem entitled Bride Brook. Bayard Taylor gives Jane Reed, a Pennsylvania ballad. Edgar Fawcett addresses a tea rose. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps is the author of Told in Confidence. Oliver Wendell Holmes's poem read at the services in memory of Dr. Howe is published here.

The literary notices are unusually full.

THE NURSERY.

The pretty little Nursery for April contains the usual variety of pictures and stories. All children and a good many mothers will be interested in Ho-Ho-Hum, and there is a very nice story about a little deer and another about some wrens. There is a picture of a grand turn-out that will please everybody.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR APRIL

opens with an interesting article on Sir Joshua Reynolds' painting of the "Strawberry Girl," illustrated by an admirable reproduction of the painting itself, which forms the frontispiece of the number.

Among the other contributions, the most prominent, perhaps, are Charles L. Brace's article on "The Poor Boy's Astor House," which gives many amusing and pathetic scenes from a New York newsboy's life, and is capitally illustrated by M. Woolf; and Frank R. Stockton's paper on the coming centennial exhibition, or "America's Birthday Party," with pictures of the principal buildings.

As for stories, "How a Grizzly treed Obed Rollins" is a narrative which, with its excellent illustrations, is both exciting and amusing; "A Lake on Fire" describes an incident which could only have happened among the dwellers by the great inland lakes; and the fortunes of a little street waif are feelingly given in Lucy G. Morse's story of "The Ash Girl." The "Boy Emigrants," too, continue their adventurous journey, and reach, this month, the "divide" of the continent, from which they begin enthusiastically their down hill journey toward the gold mines.

Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis furnishes a capital biographical sketch of the famed painter "Gilbert Stuart," with a picture of the stable studio, where he painted his portrait of Washington; and the "Talk with Girls" is a very sensible one, by H. H., on the subject of "Cheery People."

The pleasant rhymes, "The Queen of the Orkney Islands" and "The Frog, the Crab, and the Limpsy Eel," will cause a round of laughter; and "Eyebrights" and "An Easter Carol" are charming bits of Spring time verse.

The departments are crowded with good things, and there is wedged in among them, this month, a fine music page by F. Boott.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR APRIL, 1876.

Harper's Magazine for April, with eighty-five illustrations, contains a rich variety of matter, suited to all classes of readers.

The end of the second book of "Daniel Deronda," George Eliot's new novel, is given in this number. In these chapters the hero of the story appears, and the masterly sketches of his youthful career are even more beautiful than the pictures previously given of the "spoiled child," Gwendolen.

Julian Hawthorne's "Garth" is continued, and few readers can resist the peculiar fascinations of this remarkable novel.

A story of considerable length, entitled "Old Gardiston," is contributed by Constance Fenimore Woolson. It is a Southern story, and its characters are strongly drawn. Three excellent short stories are contributed by Arthur Hastings, Anna G. Swazey, and Mary R. Higham.

Benson J. Lossing's opening article on "The Romance of the Hudson," beautifully illustrated, is not confined to Revolutionary events, but deals also with lighter legends and matters of literary interest. Among the illustrations is one of the interior of Madame Jumel's mansion.

In view of the centennial exposition, soon to be opened in Philadelphia, Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis's exceedingly entertaining paper on "Old Philadelphia" will be read everywhere with the greatest interest.

Professor Samuel Lockwood's second paper on "The Microscope," amply illustrated, presents some very curious results of microscopic investigation.

"The "First Century" paper this month, devoted to "Progress of the Fine Arts," is contributed by S. S. Conant, and is illustrated with sixteen portraits, beginning with that of Paul Revere, of Revolutionary fame, and ending with that of John F. Kensett.

A homely article, full of practical and important suggestions, is contributed by Dr. Robert Tomes, entitled "At, before, and after Meals."

William R. Hooper gives, in a short article, a very interesting account of the famous "Tulip Mania," early in the seventeenth century.

The poetry of the number is contributed by Rose Terry Cooke, Lord Houghton, Celia Thaxter, and A. F.

The Editor's Easy Chair pays a timely and appropriate tribute to Thomas Paine, as the author of "Common Sense," and devotes considerable space to Household Art.

The Only Way to Conquer Dyspepsia.

It is perfectly preposterous to introduce pepsin and other artificial solvents into the stomach in the expectation that they will assist digestion by acting on the food itself. They will not. Nor is it possible thus to overcome dyspepsia. The only way to conquer that disorder, and prevent the numerous diseases and disabilities which it assuredly provokes, is to renew the activity of gastric action, by strengthening the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters eradicate the most inveterate forms of indigestion by restoring vitality to the alimentary organs and those which are tributary to them. The liver, the bowels, the kidneys and the nerves, no less than the stomach, experience the invigorative effects of that standard tonic, which possesses alterative properties that greatly enhance its beneficial influence, and give a permanence to its effects which they would not otherwise possess. mar22-1w-n&j

THE DAY.

The British house of commons has passed the bill making Queen Victoria Empress of India.

The Opera House block in Scranton, Pa., was burned yesterday, involving a loss of $150,000.

A San Francisco despatch says there is a defalcation of over $25,000 in the coiners' department of the mint in that city.

The book keeper of the Marine Bank of New York city is a defaulter to the amount of $40,000, and has escaped West. His accomplice has been arrested.

The testimony before the war expenditures committee yesterday developed that post-tradership generally were assessed more or less for political purposes.

The boiler in the rolling mill of the Union Pacific Company at Laramie City, Nebraska, burst yesterday, killing the fireman and seriously wounding ten other persons.

The zeal with which some men opposed the nomination of the present state ticket at home, and with which they supported it in the state convention is rather remarkable.

It is announced from Washington that Mr. Dana's prospects for confirmation as minister to England are greatly improved, and his friends claim a majority of three votes.

The judiciary impeachment committee concluded its examination of Caleb P. Marsh yesterday, failing to obtain any further direct evidence bearing upon the supposed original contract with General Belknap for the sale of the Fort Sill tradership.

Since the day of publication of the JOURNAL has been changed it would perhaps accommodate many of its readers from Middletown and Portsmouth to have their papers left at stores which they visit Saturdays instead of having them sent to the post office. The preferences of the readers will be promptly attended to if they are made known to us.

The bill for counting the votes for President and Vice-President still occupies the attention of the United States Senate, yesterday's session being devoted principally to its discussion. The House passed a bill repealing the law which prohibits persons participating in the rebellion from receiving appointments in the army. A bill was reported regulating the pay of army officers. Debate on the legislative appropriation bill was continued without reaching a decision.

The Republican committee yesterday renominated the present officers for their several places with more than ordinary unanimity. The show of opposition to Governor Lippitt was very small and came mostly from those already committed to the support of a rival ticket. We presume from present appearances that the people will ratify the doings of the convention at the polls, and that the present state government will be continued another year. Whatever may be the personal preferences and prejudices of the voters, all must admit that the present officers have faithfully attended to their official duties. As a business man Governor Lippitt has few equals in Rhode Island and none of our governors have given more attention to the details of the office than he. It is doubtful if the interests of the people were ever better attended to by one in that position. The other candidates are equally efficient and being well known will secure a stirring vote.

THE STATE'S FINANCES.

SHALL THE STATE'S INCOME BE INCREASED OR ITS OUTGO REDUCED?

In the General Assembly on Wednesday Mr. Aldrich, of Providence, presented a communication from the general treasurer, submitting his estimate of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1877, &c., which were received, read and referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Aldrich, from the finance committee, said that as this is a matter of great importance, it would be well for the members of the Assembly to be considering it, and therefore, with the consent of the house, he would make a few words of explanation. It appears from this that there will be, probably, the sum of $381,964 18 in the treasury during the next fiscal year, unappropriated, but that no appropriations are included for the support of the state farm, the new state prison, or the Providence county court house, and no provision for the sinking fund on the first of June, 1877, or before the money for the next year has been received. According to the estimates of the board of state charities and corrections, they will need for the support of the state farm $125,000; the commissioners on the court house want $125,000; the commissioners on the state prison ask for $160,000 more than has been appointed this present session; and the amount required for the sinking fund is $181,000; making a total of $591,000 that is wanted. Taking out the balance on hand, will leave, in round numbers, $210,000 to be provided for. It will be necessary to do one of these things, either to order the work stopped on the court house and state prison, reduce the general expenses of the state, or increase the revenue by increasing the state tax for one year. The commissioners on the court house say they can get along this year with $80,000, and the commissioners on the state prison with $100,000, making a total reduction of $105,000, and still leaving a deficiency of $105,000 to be provided for in some other way.

Mr. Cooke, from the same committee, agreed with the remarks of his colleague on the committee, that one of these things must be done, as stated. An increase of the state tax of five cents on each one hundred dollars would make up the deficiency, and this would only put the state tax where it was two years ago. This increase need remain but one year, as by that time the exigencies would be over, and he thought this would be the best thing to do. There was one other way out, which he hoped no one would favor, and that would be to tamper with the sinking fund.

WOMEN AND DOMESTIC FINANCE.—"I don't believe," remarked a gentleman after passing through Washington street of a pleasant afternoon, "that the ladies know that the times are dull and their husbands are having a hard time, to keep their heads above water." He was an unmarried man. The fact that ladies can dress as well as they did during the war at a discount of from forty to fifty per cent. from prices then paid must be taken into account. But all husbands do not make their financial affairs a topic of conversation at home, and some better halves know less of their own husbands' affairs than they do of their neighbors'. Some weeks since a lady was first informed of her husband's suspension by reading an announcement in a paper which she accidentally took up in a store while waiting to have an order filled. Whether it was pride or fear that prompted the secrecy cannot be stated, but what can be expected from wives in the way of true economy if they are only silent partners in the matrimonial copartnership? In 1857 a large jewelry firm sold a costly set of jewels to a lady. The firm knew that her husband was in a failing condition, but the lady had been a long and profitable customer. When the partner ordered his clerk not to charge the set which had been delivered, but to make a memorandum on the blotter, he paid the lady's integrity a high compliment. When her husband failed the jewelry came back with a note couched in such terms that the dealer only regretted that a gift of the set would be construed as an insult.

NO REBELS NEED APPLY.—The Philadelphia Times, Independent, says of the New Hampshire election:

"It is a notice that he who runs may read, to the Randalls, the Hills and the Tuckers, who have assumed the Democratic leadership, that if they represent Democracy there isn't a debatable state that won't unqualifiedly condemn it. It is a declaration in advance that the mingled stupidity and infidelity which make the popular branch of Congress powerless and apparently purposeless in practical statemanship will be execrated by the people just as often as the opportunity is presented. It is a finger-board for 1876 pointing unmistakably to the success of even a Grant Republican candidate in preference to any man whose record does not place him beyond the suspicion of flourbon folly."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—It will take about two weeks to repair the Eolus.

—Several children were baptized at Kay chapel this morning.

—William O. Gladding is seriously ill at his residence on Thames street.

—Capt. Keane, formerly in command of the steamer Eolus, was in town yesterday.

—Yesterday a steel safe, weighing 7,100 pounds, arrived from Boston for the National Exchange Bank.

—A. J. Ward has just been appointed agent for the Mason & Hamlin Organ Company of this city.

—D. D. G. M. Robert S. Franklin and other Masons will go to Block Island on Tuesday on Masonic business.

—Dow has the first strawberries of the year. The early season and the price give the berries an exquisite relish.

—Miss Sophia L. Little of this city addressed the Hartford Prison Association on Wednesday evening.

—The tickets for Gen. Kilpatrick's lecture have begun to sell quite rapidly and Stevens Post will do all they can to secure a full house.

—The only complaint before the justice court, this morning, was one against Joseph E. Carr for an alleged assault upon Edward Ellis, and was continued one week.

—Mr. John P. Sanborn positively refuses to accept the position on the state central committee to which he was chosen at the state convention.

—The schooner William Butler, damaged by the Old Colony, has been repaired and will proceed on her voyage the first favorable opportunity.

—The schooner Decatur Oakes, which dragged ashore in the inner harbor, came off without assistance and has started for Boothbay, Me.

—Ex-Gov. Morgan, one of our Summer villa owners, was elected one of the delegates to the Cincinnati convention at the New York state convention at Syracuse on Wednesday.

—The members of Eureka Lodge, I. O. of G. T. are making arrangements for a pound party for the benefit of the lodge to be given at their hall next Monday evening.

—The Unitarian society decided last evening to hold their centennial tea party at Touro chapel next Thursday evening instead of at the Opera House.

—The NEWPORT JOURNAL, printed this afternoon, will contain more than seven columns of local news. Read the table of contents in this paper.

—At the annual meeting of the pew holders at the First Methodist Episcopal church the following persons were elected trustees for the ensuing year:—John C. Brannan, William R. Pitman, George H. Wilson, George H. Lovejoy, George A. Simmons, George Popple and James L. Weaver.

—Duprez and Benedict's Minstrels will be here one week from tomorrow night. They have a new and original programme appropriate to the centennial year. Reserved seats can be obtained now without extra charge, that is, for fifty cents each. On the day and evening of the exhibition they will be twenty five cents extra.

—The vestry of Zion church, at a meeting last night, referred the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Kettell to the corporation, a meeting of which will be held at Easter. The wardens were appointed a committee to see in the meantime if some arrangement could not be made whereby the rector would withdraw his resignation.

—The young man who was driving Mr. Brown's horse at the time he ran down Church street yesterday was named James Child and was hurt considerably by falling onto one of the wheels and then striking upon the ground on his head. Today he is comfortable but will be confined to his house for a week or more.

—A little son of Leopold Hertgen was run over at the corner of Bath road and Bellevue avenue yesterday afternoon by a butcher's wagon. The wheels passed over his head and shoulder, cutting and bruising the flesh but breaking no bones. He was taken up by the driver of the wagon but was able to walk home where he was attended by Dr. Butler.

—Lately some boys who are old enough to know better, have been making a target of the fence around the estate of the late Robert H. Ives, on the cliffs, and have completely riddled about twenty feet of it with bullets. It is really a shame, after such a nice walk is laid out along the cliffs for the benefit of the public, that anybody would be so mean as to deface the property.

THE FIRST REHEARSAL

of the chorus in connection with the Rogers High School Orchestra, took place last evening, under the direction of Dr. Wood. Mr. John Rogers gave his valuable aid on the organ. There were present, twelve sopranos, seven altos, eleven tenors, and eleven basses. Several others would have been present, had it not been for bad colds. Ultimately, the members will probably reach sixty.

One choral from the ancient German, and one chorale from Mozart, were rehearsed. They both have orchestral arrangements, which will be performed by the orchestra. The latter were not present with the chorus, but held a rehearsal of their own. All of the parts were finely brought out, as usual always be the case, when each singer desires and labors for good music. What an excellent plan that would be, which united the vocal talent of our city into a permanent organization, for the cultivation of the art divine, especially, now that we can have orchestral assistance without sending abroad.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Daily News:—

Your strictures upon the administration of justice are well, and there is no doubt but that the editor, like the preacher, should be a watchman upon the tower jealously regarding the public interests and being ever ready to give a response to the enquiry, "what of the night," yet it is also true that he should be able to perform this duty in the clear light of truth, and justice to all. In an item in yesterday's NEWS, in speaking of the case of O'Brien who was taken up and committed to jail upon an original complaint for beating his wife, and of David Goggin's attempting to bail him from prison and so doing committing perjury in swearing to certain things which were requisite to constitute him a proper person to be taken as surety for O'Brien, it is said that the grand jury had his case before them but declined to indict him. Now this is calculated, as it stands, to do injustice to them as well as the officer under whose charge their inquest was held. The grand jury were a unit for indicting Goggin, but the assistant attorney general discovered a flaw in the original commitment of O'Brien to jail that rendered an indictment against Goggin nugatory; and so the grand jury declined to proceed because they could not. The foundation being wrong and rotten the superstructure wouldn't hold of course.

THE ECLIPSE TOMORROW.

Tomorrow afternoon an eclipse of from one quarter to one third of the sun will be visible to the inhabitants of this city. The largest obscuration in the United States will be eleven and one half digits, which, however, will be seen only in the neighborhood of Cape Flattery. In New England the appearance of the sun will be similar to that which will be observed in New York.

This eclipse seems to be the fifteenth return of the one reported by the astronomer Kepler at Naples in the year 1605.

There will not be another eclipse of the sun until Monday July 29, 1878. For three minutes that eclipse will be total in Denver, Colorado, at about three o'clock in the afternoon. The last total eclipse of this century will take place on the 28th of May, 1900, and will be total for one minute only in Alabama and the Carolinas.—[New York Evening Post.

BRIDE'S ETIQUETTE IN CALLS AND DINNER-PARTIES.

The lady of the house should occupy a seat facing the door of the room, and then she is at once seen by the incomers, and is ready to receive them. Possibly, any probably, she will not be acquainted with many of the people who come to pay their devoirs, but this must not make any difference in her manner of reception; she should rise from her seat and shake hands with all alike, both ladies and gentlemen. Bear this in mind, matrons, young and old, it is proper you should shake hands with every stranger who enters your house, whether as a caller or an invited guest. I am urged to make this remark, because I see that some ladies receive strangers with a bow only, and the laws of hospitality require a warmer welcome to the house, in the shape of an outstretched hand, and not merely a formal bend of the head. It is not customary to introduce people to one another. If possible, arrange for the last-comers to sit beside you, and devote a little time to them, and then turn to the other occupants of the room, for courtesy demands that no feeling of neglect should have occasion to creep into the minds of any one present. When a visitor rises to take leave, the lady of the house also rises, and, while addressing a few parting words, she rings the bell as a signal to the servant to be ready to open the door, for it is considered very discourteous to allow a visitor to open and shut the hall door. After having received calls, it is time to think of returning them. A first call should be returned within the space of a few days. From 3 to 5 are the correct calling hours. The duration of this first call should be short—about ten or fifteen minutes. It is quite permissible to speak to any one in the room without an introduction. When paying a formal call of this description, a card case is taken, but it is not now usual to take cards from it while in the room. For instance, if your husband does not accompany you, but sends his cards, instead of giving them to the lady of the house, you leave two on the hall-table—one being for the lady and the other for the gentleman of the house. After a while, when the calls have been made and paid, the newly-married couple receive invitations to dinner or other festivities. Wonderful to relate, the lady is not to consider what she will wear, for the bridal costume is invariably donned on all such occasions, the only difference being that the veil is now used as a shawl. Remember, young matron, that you are the chief personage at all these entertainments. Even if you are still in your teens, you take precedence of older matrons. It is the bride whom the host takes in to dinner; it is she to whom the hostess looks when rising from the dinner-table; it is she with whom the host opens the ball; it is she who must take her departure before the other guests venture to bid their adieux.—[Harper's Bazar.

Dr. Schenck's Standard Remedies.

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and, if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed, mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principal office, corner of SIXTH and ARCH STS., Philadelphia, every Monday.

Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country. mhr8-2m-no

SPECTACLES.

The advantages of the Parabola Glasses over the old form of Spectacles, are a greater density of material, perfect surfaces, and Parabolic form. These qualities, united, form the most perfect of lenses. In the perfect transmission of light, joined to their peculiar form the wearer of the Parabola Spectacles is enabled to prosecute the most trying labors of the eye without those distressing results which follow the use of all other glasses. A peculiar and important feature in these Spectacles is witnessed in cases where young persons have been obliged to resort to the use of glasses, from some physical debility having affected temporarily their vision. In such cases the eye soon regains its healthy powers, and the glasses can be laid aside without having had the least tendency to affect the eyes so as to demand their continuous use.

[From Dr. George McClellan, Philadelphia.]

I have recommended the "Parabola Spectacles" to several of my patients, and have received from most of them warm encomiums upon the article. They assert that these glasses do not fatigue the eyes by long use, as is apt to be the case with the double concave spectacles, while the command of the eyes over the object of vision is much greater. This corresponds with the opinion any optician would form from his knowledge of the principles upon which those glasses are adjusted—so as to converge the rays coming from different quarters to the same focal distance. The eyes can be turned to a considerable extent, therefore, under these glasses, without involving the necessity of moving the head.

The excellent results obtained in New England, during the past three years, by the use of our compound, as modified to each crop, justify us in recommending every farmer to make a trial on one or more of his crops this season, with the confidence that wherever once used it, will continue to do so. We call the attention of STRAWBERRY GROWERS, to the following extract from the Boston Cultivator of Oct. 30th, 1875:—

STRAWBERRY CULTURE.—I notice a result of "strawberry culture" in a late issue of your paper, Mr. Editor, I hereby give you my result for this year. My strawberry bed contained 30 rods, and yielded me the following results to the acre: 6,760 boxes of hulled strawberries, which I sold to Boston dealers at an average for the season of 23 cents per box, equal to $1,525 per acre.

I use on my strawberry beds no other manure than the Matfield Strawberry Fertilizer of Boston.

Upon the petition of Benjamin Marsh, 2d, of Newport, R. I., in writing to this court, presenting therewith an instrument in writing dated the 2d day of June, 1871, purporting to be the last will and testament of Mary N. Cotton, late of Newport, deceased, praying that the same may be proved, allowed, and that letters testamentary on the estate of said testator, be issued to him the executor named therein.

The same is received and is referred to Monday, the 10th day of April next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Probate Office, in the City Hall, in Newport, for consideration, and notice thereof is ordered to be published for fourteen days, once a week at least, in the NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

The commissioners heretofore appointed to receive the claims of the Creditors on the Estate of John Easton, late of Newport, deceased, representel insolvent, present their report for reception.

It is ordered that the consideration of said report be referred to April 10th, next, at 10 o'clock, A. WM. LOVIE TILLEY, mar24 PROBATE CLERK.

At a Court of Probate, of the City of Newport, held March 20th, 1876.

Upon the petition to this Court in writing of James G. Topham, Administrator of the Estate of John Easton, deceased, representing that there is no personal estate of said deceased to pay the debts, that said deceased at the time of his death was seized and possessed of a lot of land with a dwelling house thereon, situate on Golden Hill Street, in said Newport, bounded Northerly partly on land of Catherine Boyd and partly on land of Richard Lawton, Easterly on land of Thomas Walsh and wife, Southerly on Golden Hill Street, and Westerly on land of David Rousmaniere, and further represents that by a sale of so much real estate as is absolutely needed, the residue thereof would be so much injured as to render the sale of the whole estate more advantageous to those interested therein. He therefore prays that he may be authorized and empowered to sell the whole of said estate or so much thereof as may be necessary to make up the difference of the personal estate aforesaid with incidental charges.

The same is received, and is referred for consideration to the 10th day of April next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Probate office in the City Hall, Newport, and notice is ordered to be published for fourteen days, once a week at least, in the NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1876.

AGRICULTURAL.

WORK TO BE DONE NOW.

March is generally the most trying month in the year. This is the month of all on which depends the forethought of the good farmer. If advantage of time in the Winter has been taken he is ready for the work which is coming on. If not done before, get everything in order early, tools, ploughs, harrows, wagons, whiffle-trees, and the many little things needed during the season, when time presses. Paint tools, implements, wagons, etc., and sharpen up the hoes, spades, etc. See to the bolts on wagons, machines, etc.; look to the harrow teeth, roller, mower and reaper, seed drills and cultivators. Sharpen and point the shares on steel ploughs, look to the coulters and clevises. Buy extra shares now, and save time in running after them when busy.

BUILDINGS should be examined; nail tight the loose boards. Staples and hooks do away with the banging and wearing out of shutters and doors, to say nothing of the searching winds. Give a coat of whitewash to unsightly sheds, pens, &c.

FLOORS.—Look them over and pick out decaying ones.

HORSES.—Horses this month should be in readiness for work. After a partly idle Winter they should be gradually accustomed to higher feed with harder work. See that they are well shod; be careful of caulks as it might lead to scratches if neglected. Give mares in foal plenty of room if colt is expected soon; give exercise by light work with an occasional feed of roots.

COWS coming in this month should have the best of care; if inclined to garget, reduce rations and stop all heating food. Applications of cool (not ice cold) water applied faithfully to the udder will have good effect.

SOWS.—Sows in pig should have a good, clean, warm pen; feed well. A board or rail running around sides of pen, sloping and projecting six or eight inches from the sides and about a foot from the ground, will prevent sow from lying on the young pigs. Provide abundance of cut straw for bedding.

POULTRY.—Clean out and whitewash inside of fowl house. Rub kerosene oil on the roosts. Set some broody hens for early chickens. Laying hens should be kept separate from setting ones.

MEADOWS.—Do not allow stock to run on pasture ground too early; spoils their appetite for dry food, makes them discontented and uneasy, and injures the meadow.

BARNYARD should be kept well littered. Haul out manure when ground is frozen; build in compact heaps, and turn and mix heaps thoroughly once before using if possible.

PLOWING ought never to be done if the ground is not sufficiently dry, especially on heavy soils. If plowed too early the bad effects are seen all through the season. Fall plowed ground will be in good condition to replant and sow oats or furrow out for other crops after harrowing.

OATS.—No crop requires earlier sowing than the oat; harrow the seed well in.

TREES should be pruned before the buds begin to swell. Cut all dead limbs; grub out carefully suckers around roots, if any have been allowed to grow. Look out for insects. In planting trees, shorten in the small shoots and trim the ends of the roots. Plant trees after the cold winds are over.

FRUIT GARDEN.—As soon as ground settles make new plantations of trees, raspberries, currants and strawberries. Prune raspberries and blackberries, and cut back old canes. Prune grape vines in mild weather, sooner the better. Plant strawberries early if plants are in good condition. Examine trees for borers and wrap tarred paper around stem to keep them away. Uncover strawberry beds early.

TRANSPLANTING PLANTS.—The Germantown Telegraph says: There is no mode that we ever tried so effectual in transplanting tomato, cabbage, cantaloupe, or any other tender plants from the hot-bed or from one place to another, as to prepare a vessel filled with manure-water and rich soil, about the consistency of thin mush, with which the roots of the plants should be well-coated and set in a hole made with a sharp round piece of wood or dibble. After being rather firmly planted, moisten again with manure-water. We have never failed in any transplanting when done in this way, and the trouble is very slight.

REASONS

WHY YOU SHOULD PREFER TO INSURE

WITH THE OLD

INSURANCE CO. OF NORTH AMERICA.

PHILADELPHIA.

1. It is the Oldest Insurance Company in America,—having commenced business in 1791—and therefore entitled to your confidence on the score of Stability.

2. It has done a successful business for eighty years, thereby demonstrating the ability of its management.

3. It has uniformly maintained during its long career, the Highest Reputation for Integrity and Honorable Dealing, justifying thereby, full faith that your rights will receive fair and liberal protection.

4. It has paid Losses in cash, exceeding Thirty Million Dollars, without the deduction of a cent, or a day's delay—a sufficient evidence of the Wealth of its resources, as well as disposition to meet promptly all liabilities.

5. It has a Cash Capital and Surplus of over $4,700,000, securely invested—an ample guarantee against liability, in the event of unusual and extraordinary loss, which have often swept away companies of limited means.

6. It insures all the better classes of property on Liberal Terms, for long or short periods, and settles all honest claims for losses, Promptly and Equitably, at the Agency where the insurance is effected—observing in all its business relations, the Golden Rule.
